INSPECTOR SCORE OF NORTON WITNESSES

GREENPORT, L. I., June 23.—The three America's cup yachts were lost in a heavy fog when the starting signal was hoisted for today's race.

GREENWICH, Conn., June 22.—Unfavorable weather conditions prevailed today as the cup defence trio—Yankee, Resolute and Defiance—waited the signal to resume their contest. A stiff breeze was blowing

When the heavy clouds gave warning that rain squalls might be expected. Since the trials off Sandy Hook, in which the Resolute was an easy victor, all three yachts have undergone thorough overhauls. The Resolute was replaced "BHU" Dennis as skipper of the Vanitie, and she owned to be hopeful today that she might win the tables on the Herreshoff boat.

By noon the breeze had fallen to a light air and a heavy fog lay over the course fixed for today's race. Shortly after 12 o'clock the three boats jockeyed to the Indian Point mark.

With the warning signal to begin at 12:25 and the starting signal at 12:30, the boats were off, and whether the wind would freshen up to let the boats cross the line the first time was anybody's guess.

It was announced that alterations had been made to the Herreshoff's keel and the boat was off in 45 minutes and 41 seconds from the starting line and 5 minutes from the LONDON, June 23.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, head of the Women's Social and Political Union, has secretly fled from London, according to information received at Scotland Yard today.

Mrs. Pankhurst is said to be living on a private yacht off Norfolk, from which vantage point she is directing the militant campaign of the "furies." Militant suffragettes made an attempt to blow up St. Mary's Church at Reading with a bomb early today, but their intentions were frustrated because the fuse of the bomb went out.

The sexton of the church discovered the bomb while cleaning the edifice. The fuse had been poorly made and had become extinguished before it could ignite and explode. The bomb was turned over to the police.

Do Boston crooks carry guns? This question was answered today when a wagon carrying loot and articles taken from men and women arrested at the various downtown stations during the past few months brought to police headquarters a large box full of revolvers, knives and brass knuckles. There were over 2,650 guns of every description from the old-fashioned single shot to the latest model automatic. These weapons will be kept at police headquarters until they are called for. At the end of a respectable length of time they will be thrown overboard.

NEW YORK, June 23.—One man was killed and a score injured today by a collapse that hurled many tons of earth and rock into a subway excavation at Fourth avenue and Seventy-sixth street, Brooklyn. For a time, owing to errors in the police reports, it was feared that the death toll would be much larger.

A was a load of sand was standing upon the superstructure of one of the buildings and fell into the crushing several workmen who were caught beneath it. The victims of the accident were at work under the sidewalks on both sides of the street when the structure gave way, allowing tons of earth, concrete, bricks, stone and other kinds of building materials to fall from a height of at least ten feet, and were carried to the bottom of the excavation where its great weight caused it to sink in the soft earth at the bottom.

The fireman in charge of the work Jacob A. Keever, was arrested on criminal negligence as the result of the disaster.

NEW HAVEN, Ct., June 23.—Charles D. Hilles and wife returned home today after a visit of several days with former President and Mrs. William H. Taft at their home in this city. Former President Taft and his family leave on Thursday for Murray Bay, Canada, to spend the summer.

HAMBURG, June 23.—The North German Lloyd liner Kontigen Luise and the German steamer Cohra were in collision today.

The Kontigen Luise had her bow smashed and began shipping water so rapidly that her passengers were

The prow of the liner caught the Cobra amidships and she was badly damaged, both above and below the waterline.

The Konigen Luise hails from Bremen. The liner's tonnage is 6,790. According to the 1914 issue of the American Bureau of Shipping's record, the Konigen Luise is commanded by O. Volger.

Amending Bill

LONDON, June 23.—A bill amending the original home rule for Ireland bill, to conform with the government proposals, was introduced in the House of Lords today.

Amy Lowell, poetess and sister of President Lowell of Harvard, sailed today on the Laconia for Europe, but not before she had had her suite of

It appears that the steamship company, with wretched taste, has finished the staterooms in white panelling with buff and old rose garnishings. Miss Lowell took one look and held up horrid hands.

When the boat sailed today, the walls and hangings were covered with chaotic draperies of grass green and the soul of the poetess was Poppy Seeds." Thereafter she went auto hither and yon o'er the face of the map of Europe. To that end she took with her beside the grand dapperies, a maid, a chauffeur and an automobile.

Last time Miss Lowell crossed there were rumors that she smoked cigars on deck after dinner of an evening but there were no cigars sighted up to the time of sailing today.

Leslie J. Glen, who was drowned in Medford while swimming, and who was to have graduated from the Somerville High School, today was buried from the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Somerville. Hundreds of youth and friends crowded the church. The body was draped in the surplice of a vestment. A hymn was sung, and a prayer was read. In one hand he held a Bible which was to be presented to him at graduation. A certificate of recognition of perfect attendance was also presented to him. In the other hand he held a diploma he was to have received this afternoon at the Somerville High School. The exercises were presided over by N. K. Bishop officiated. Burial was at Woodlawn.

Matthew Hale's sister at his Summer home at Dublin, N. H., today reported that Mr. Hale, who was stricken with heart trouble Saturday, is "slightly better."

Mr. Hale, chairman of the Progressive State Committee, went to Dublin Friday night. He did not feel well then, and the following day was worse.

Dr. Childs said today: "Mr. Hale's condition is a little more hopeful today. However, if he recovers from this acute attack, he will need a very long rest. His illness is a form of heart trouble."

Because a witness to the will of Charles Rodrick, late of Swampscott, had an interest in a bequest of the will, the full bench of the Supreme Court today reversed a decree of the Essex Probate Court allowing the will. The will left $300 to the Chapel Congregation of the Church of Christ of Swampscott, to be used as the purchase of a mortgage on its property. The mortgage was for $4,500. It was given to the Lynn Institution for Savings on January 30, 1889. When the will was made, August 7, 1912, only $50 was due on the mort-

The body of Mrs. Sarah F. Frost, widow of Patrolman John Frost of Medford, was found floating in the Mystic River near Foster's court, Medford, today, by Henry O'Brien, the keeper of the bathhouse. Mrs. Frost lived with her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Wells, at No. 16 Foster's court. She was heard about the house late last night by her daughter. She had been suffering from nerve troubles. She was eighty-two years old.

"Tom" Norton, best-loved inspector in the Boston Police Department, who lost his life in arresting "Diamond Chip" Robinson in the Boylston Cafe last night.

Wednesday, June 24—Legal Stamp Redemption Day

Nothing Succeeds Like Success
We are obliged to use this old saying because it fits the case better than anything else.
To those who did not see our Redemption Day Announcements on May 6 and June 3, we desire to announce that Bacons' was the first store in Boston to tell the public how to make their Legal Stamp Books worth $5.00 in merchandise instead of $2.50.

Also the first store in Boston to use the slogan, "Meet me at Bacons' Restaurant."
Also the first store in Boston to say "Everybody Goes to Bacons' for Lower Prices."
All of these features have now been copied by another Boston department store, and as it is our policy to be liberal and generous in all things, we extend an invitation to all competitors to use any or all of our ideas.

Let Bacons' Pay Your Round Trip Fare to the Panama Exposition
In honor of our One Hundred and First Anniversary Sale, June, 1915, we will send one hundred and one of our customers as far as steamship or railroad fare is concerned. This is the chance of a lifetime to take the wonderful trip by rail from ocean to ocean.

To secure the free round trip ticket to the exposition, it will be necessary for you to fill (with stamps issued by us) and redeem (in our store) twenty-four or more Legal Stamp Books between June 24, 1914 and March 31, 1915, inclusive. Should more than one hundred and one customers comply with the above conditions, we will start with the largest purchaser and distribute the free tickets among the one hundred and one who purchase the largest number of stamps.

START NOW
Including round trip fares, meals and berth en route, hotel bills and the admission to exposition and all attractions, together with other incidentals, aggregating not more than two hundred dollars.

All who wish to take advantage of this offer are requested to make application at Mr. Butler's office, fourth floor. Twenty-four stamp books may be redeemed for $2.00 cash or $48 cash or in merchandise to the amount of $2.50 for each book, or $60.00 total. Whether or not you succeed in winning the free trip to San Francisco, you will gain a big reward in the big value of the stamp books you do fill.

Twenty-four Legal stamp books may be quickly and easily filled by purchasing all your wearing apparel, all your home furnishings and all your groceries, fresh meats, fish and provisions at Bacons'. We sell everything that everybody needs.

Those who try for and do not succeed in winning the Exposition Prize will find that their efforts have not been wasted because of the following:

Advance Notice Concerning Our One Hundred and First Anniversary, June, 1915
This announcement is addressed to collectors of Merchants Legal Stamps and to those who may become Legal Stamp collectors in the near future.

It tells you how you may secure an extra 10% discount on all your purchases in our Anniversary Sale whether we sell merchandise at cost or below cost, half price or less than half price. Each stamp collector who fills in our stamps and redeems (in our store) twelve legal stamp books or more between June 24, 1914, and March 31, 1915, inclusive, will receive an extra 10% discount on all purchases made during the One Hundred and First Anniversary Sale, June, 1915.

Application must be made at Mr. Butler's desk, fourth floor, by those wishing to avail themselves of this extraordinary opportunity.

SOX ON ROAD; LINE UP WITH YANKS NEXT

CHICAGO, Ill., June 23.—The Boston Red Sox today were on the way to New York to take on the Yankees. And they certainly were glad to get away from this town.

They were bumped 5 to 4 in a game with the White Sox and then they were to play the Yankees. They were to play the Yankees in four of the five games they played here and it was one of the most disastrous series of the year for them.

It was a rule that that would be the Red Sox in this city. When they came here they were to play the White Sox and then they were to play the Yankees. They were to play the Yankees in four of the five games they played here and it was one of the most disastrous series of the year for them.

They started off by giving the White Sox a fine beating and then they were to play the Yankees. They were to play the Yankees in four of the five games they played here and it was one of the most disastrous series of the year for them.

It would be difficult to tell just how they lost the game. In a way there is no one personally or any one else that can be held responsible. The pitchers simply did not pitch and the hitters did not hit.

Joe Wood was hit hard. Foster couldn't go the distance. In the final game Red was knocked from the club. It seemed that when the Red Sox met together and elected that the Yankees would be the ones to play the Red Sox and the men of Chance.

They were to play the Yankees in four of the five games they played here and it was one of the most disastrous series of the year for them.

Both Johnson and Foster got hit. It was a rule that that would be the Red Sox in this city. When they came here they were to play the White Sox and then they were to play the Yankees.
